HAPPY THANSIVING

Upgrading to Windows 10

For those individuals that have upgraded to Windows 10. Has your computer slow down? Using up an enormous number of gigabytes? Yet your browsing pattern hasn't change? Well, this could be due to the Operating System (OS), Windows 10 has a new security system that could be the problem. This security update is trying to download and unable to due to insufficient space on the hard drive. So, never time you are on your PC it just keeping loading and loading without any result; which result in using up your gigabytes. To solve this issue, you can do the following:

- Before downloading the SSU, you will have to turn off Automatic Updates.
- Click Start, type Windows update in the search box.
- Then click Windows Update in the Programs list.
- In the left pane, click Change settings, select Never check for updates, and then select OK.
- Restart the computer.
